

FutureFIT[®] University

A big step in financial wellness

If a person decided to improve their health, what's one of the first things they would do? Get all the information they could on how to start, what to do, what to avoid, and how to stay well and healthier, right?

A financial wellness training facility: FutureFIT University

That's exactly the idea behind FutureFIT University, one of the exciting features offered by AIG Retirement Services in our FutureFIT digital experience.

Powered by EverFi, FutureFIT University is a comprehensive financial wellness experience designed to educate participants—and their families—about a variety of financial topics. Employees can build a financial wellness program with courses designed to be short, fun and interactive. And they can start their kids off with financial literacy training, whether they are in grade school or high school.

FutureFIT University playlists

The program offers employees the chance to bundle courses together in a playlist format that fits their unique financial situation, with topics such as:

- Basics of a budget and responsible money choices
- Foundational principles in starting a business and market research
- Insights into financing higher education
- Information on renting vs. owning
- Information on credit monitoring, identity protection and retirement planning
- And more
